"Everybody look around, cause there's a reason to rejoice you see ... and let's commence to singing joyfully. Everybody look up and feel the hope that we've been waiting for"

Greetings to my dear St. Martin de Porres family,

As we approach the Thanksgiving season, I want you to know that you are all at the top of my list of thanks to God Almighty. In the very difficult year of transition, you have been my guiding light. I often marvel at how God works through us, and with us, and for us. More reason to give him thanks and praise!

Nothing too new on the Road to Renewal front. It looks as if we will begin the planning phase for our Central city parishes in mid-January. The time frame for planning is approximately six months. It will include condensing the Mass schedule for the four parishes, sacramental life, administration, faith formation. There have been no announcements in terms of pastors, but I'm still in the running! I continue to hope and pray that we will be able to continue our journey together if I am appointed pastor of our family, which includes, Saint Lawrence, Blessed Trinity and Saints Columba-Brigid parishes.

I think I mentioned last weekend at masses that Thanksgiving is not only my favorite holiday, but it is my favorite time of year. I have scheduled a Mass on Thanksgiving Eve at 7PM for us. I truly hope that many of you will consider coming to church that night that we may together give thanks to Almighty God for all the blessings he has given us. Following Mass, pizza, wings, beer, wine, and soft drinks will be served. My Thanksgiving gift to you.

Sadly, we say goodbye to our beloved Lanette Jennings for a few months. She does so much for our parish. Wishing her Godspeed and an enjoyable time in the warmer weather for the winter.

I think that's it for now. See you in my prayers. God's love and mine ... Father Joe

GOSPEL MEDITATION
ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

November 13, 2022 - 33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

Many make it their life's ambition to determine precisely when the world will end. By reading the signs of the times, consulting scripture, or looking to prophetic predictions that are sometimes centuries old, they claim a certain credibility in being able to do so. Is all that necessary to know? Even when his disciples pointedly ask him this question, Jesus does not directly answer. While the end will inevitably come, Jesus points out that there is a lot we need to do first: remain faithful, face persecution, endure suffering, face wars and insurrections, and give testimony. Human beings tend to focus their energies on the wrong kingdom. Consumed with all of the things we have built and seeking to preserve them, we forget that we belong to a different kingdom, the Kingdom of God.

All of the "stuff" we have constructed will be taken away. All that will remain is God's kingdom. Which kingdom do we prefer? We answer that question by honestly looking at where we invest most of our time and energy. What matters to us as we embrace a new moment or day in our lives? If our relationship with God, the strength and integrity of our souls, and the steadfastness of our character are of utmost importance, then it matters little when the physical end will come. We will have what we need to persevere, endure, and confront whatever comes our way. Jesus cautions that we do not allow ourselves to be overwhelmed or overly terrified by the agonies and disappointments of the world. Although we may be apprehensive and uncertain when faced with complex challenges, God is with us. We will receive the inspiration we need to forge ahead.

God is a God of salvation and new beginnings. Whether we consider the daily unfolding of our earthly lives or our eternal ones to come, God never leaves us with dead ends. There is always hope, and there is always something new to come. As Julian of Norwich reminds us, "God made us, God loves us and God keeps us." This wisdom holds true whether life is stable and profitable or challenging and uncertain. If we remember this simple truth, we will be ready regardless of the day or the hour.
